A Scottish Tradition

TABLE Tables in the castle courtyard are dressed with plaid linen overlays and green linen underlays, topped with an arrangement of varietal herbs and grasses, calla lilies, coxcomb and amaranthus in large concrete urns. Chairs are decorated with terracotta silk and clusters of flowers.

Using antique symbols and modernizing them.

BOUQUET & BOUTONNIERE

A woody bouquet of white peonies, pampas grass, herbs and succulents nestled in a nest-like collar tied with a plaid ribbon is finished with a luckenbooth. The luckenbooth charm is a romantic symbol that dates back hundreds of years and is used by the groom upon betrothal to his bride.
